Nate Thurmond (No. 42)
Height: 6-11 Weight: 235
Position: Center
Jersey Retired: 11/28/1977

Long before Nate Thurmond had arrived to the Cleveland Cavaliers on Nov. 27, 1975 and led the five-year old franchise to its first playoff appearance, he held a warm spot in the hearts of Northeast Ohioans.

Born Nathaniel Thurmond on July 25, 1941 in Akron, Ohio, the 6-foot-11 center starred at Akron's Central Hower High School before attending Bowling Green State University. As a Falcon, Thurmond averaged 17.8 points and 17.0 rebounds over three varsity seasons, earning All-American honors as a senior in 1963.

Drafted by the San Francisco Warriors with the third overall pick in the 1963 NBA Draft, Thurmond learned behind Wilt Chamberlain for a full season before the Warriors traded Chamberlain midway through the following season, clearing room for Thurmond to flourish. A dominant defensive player whom Chamberlain and Kareem Abdul-Jabbar both credited as their toughest defender, Thurmond was named to the NBA All-Defensive First or Second-Team on five occasions (1969, '71-'74) and was honored as an NBA All-Star seven times (1965-68, '70, '73-'74). Thurmond is also acknowledged in NBA history as the first player to ever record a quadruple-double.

Thurmond was traded to the Chicago Bulls after 11 seasons as a Warrior and two trips to the NBA Finals (1964 and 1967). Thurmond spent two seasons in Chicago before the Cavaliers acquired the center for Steve Patterson and Eric Fernsten.

Home in Ohio again, Thurmond led the 1975-76 Cavaliers team that started 6-11 without him to a 43-22 finish and the playoffs, helping give birth to the season better known as "the Miracle of Richfield".

The following season would be Thurmond's last as he retired at the end of the season. He was inducted in the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame in 1984 and named to the NBA 50th Anniversary All-Time Team in 1996.

The Cavaliers retired his jersey on Dec. 18, 1977.

Bobby "Bingo" Smith (No. 7)
Height: 6-6 Weight: 195
Position: Small Forward
Jersey Retired: 12/4/79

On May 11, 1970, the Cleveland Cavaliers drafted 11 players in the 1970 Expansion Draft. Two never put on a Cavaliers uniform. Of the remaining nine, all but one played four seasons or less in Cleveland.

The one, Bobby Smith, played 10 seasons and over 700 games with the Cavaliers, helping to shape and mold the young expansion team into playoff contenders.

Better known as "Bingo", Smith spent his rookie season with the San Diego Rockets before being selected by the Cavaliers in the Expansion Draft. Smith and his patented "rainbow jumper" became bright spots through Cleveland's early years as the team quickly improved. With each passing season, the versatile small forward remained a constant and consistent performer, even leading the 1974-75 Cavaliers that finished 40-42 and one game out of the playoffs in scoring at 15.9 points per game.

The following season, Cleveland made the playoffs for the first time and Smith added a bit of magic to the season that has become known as the "Miracle of Richfield". With home-court advantage already lost and the Cavaliers trailing in their first round series against the favored Washington Bullets, 0-1, Smith and his rainbow jumpers helped Cleveland find a pot of gold. In Washington for Game 2, Smith scored a team-leading 17 points and made the game-winning shot with just seconds remaining to secure the 80-79 victory. The win served as the first playoff victory for the franchise and propelled the Cavaliers past the Bullets and into the Eastern Conference Finals against Boston where they eventually fell in six games.

Smith played four more seasons in Cleveland, helping guide the Cavaliers to the playoffs two more times before finishing his career with the San Diego Clippers for one season.

"Bingo" ranks in the top 10 all-time in franchise history in six different categories: games played (4th), field goals made (3rd), field goals attempted (3rd), minutes played (5th) and points scored (6th).

The Cavaliers retired his jersey on Dec. 4, 1979.

CAVALIERS ALL-TIME RETIRED JERSEYS (CONTINUED)

Austin Carr (No. 34)
Height: 6-4 Weight: 200
Position: Shooting Guard
Jersey Retired: 1/3/81

Going into their second season as a franchise, the Cleveland Cavaliers held the No. 1 overall pick in the 1971 NBA Draft and aimed to get an impact player. With their pick, the Cavaliers selected Austin Carr, a high-scoring shooting guard and two-time All-American at Notre Dame.

Carr proved not only to be the impact player the Cavaliers sought, but much more.

As a rookie, Carr immediately became the top option on offense, averaging 21.2 points and becoming the first Cavalier named to the All-NBA Rookie Team. Known as "A.C." by teammates and fans alike, the sweet-shooting fan favorite averaged 20 or more points the following two seasons, highlighted by Carr's selection as an All-Star in 1974.

Just as Carr began to reach elite status in the NBA, misfortune struck. On Dec. 5, 1974, Carr suffered a knee injury that eventually cut short his season and forced him to undergo surgery.

Carr persevered and returned strong, playing in all 82 games in three of the following four seasons. Even after the injury, Carr's impact as a scorer and leader remained present as he never averaged less than double-digits in his career and led the Cavaliers to the playoffs on three occasions during his nine-year tenure in Cleveland.

After the 1979-80 season, Carr's final with the Cavaliers, he won the Walter Kennedy Citizenship Award for his substantial contributions to the Cleveland community.

Carr is placed second in field goals made and attempted and ranks fourth in points scored among all players to don a Cavaliers uniform. He also ranks among the franchise leaders in free throws made (6th) and attempted (5th) and minutes played (6th).

For his efforts on and off the floor, Carr was selected by 32 members of the media in Northeast Ohio to the Cavaliers' All-Time Starting Five during the Cavaliers 30th Anniversary season of 1999-2000.

He remains deeply involved in the organization serving as director of community and business development as well as the full-time analyst for the Cavaliers Television Network.

The Cavaliers retired his jersey on Jan. 3, 1981.

Larry Nance (No. 22)
Height: 6-10 Weight: 235
Position: Power Forward
Jersey Retired on 1/30/95

Undoubtedly, the 1986 NBA Draft that landed the Cavaliers Brad Daugherty, Ron Harper and Mark Price brought a youthful injection of much-needed talent and skilled players to an evolving franchise. The acquisition of the three college stars instantly made the Cavaliers good.

But perhaps it was the final acquisition of power forward Larry Nance that made the Cavaliers go from good to great and led to one of the most successful eras in team history. On Feb. 25, 1988, Cleveland sent Kevin Johnson, Mark West, Tyrone Corbin, a first-round draft choice in 1988 and two second-round picks to Phoenix in exchange for Nance, Mike Sanders and Detroit's first-round pick in 1988.

Known as "Leapin' Larry" for the dunking prowess that made him the first-ever Slam Dunk Champion in 1984 and his strong shot-blocking skills, Nance brought his high-flying, power game and six years of experience to a team in desperate need of a veteran.

Nance filled the void remarkably, helping the Cavaliers make the playoffs by winning 11 of their final 13 games that season.

The following season was one of the best in franchise history as the Cavaliers won a then franchise-best 57 games (which was later tied by the 1991-92 team that Nance also starred on) and went 37-4 at home. Nance was named an NBA All-Star for the first of two times in 1989 and was joined on the squad by Daugherty, Price and Head Coach Lenny Wilkens.

Spearheaded by the trio of Nance, Daugherty and Price, the Cavaliers made the playoffs in each season the group played together besides 1990-91, where Price was limited to just 16 games after tearing his ACL.

A tenacious defender, Nance is one of only two players in franchise history to be named to the All-Defensive First Team (1988-89) and the only Cavalier to make the All-Defensive teams three times (1988-89, 91-92 and 92-93).

He ranks among the Cavaliers all-time leaders in blocked shots (3rd), field goal percentage (3rd), rebounds (9th), field goals made and attempted (9th), minutes played (10th) and free throws made (10th).

Nance was named to the Cavaliers' All-Time Starting Five by 32 members of the Northeast Ohio media during the Cavaliers 30th Anniversary season.

The Cavaliers retired his jersey on Jan. 30, 1995.

CAVALIERS ALL-TIME RETIRED JERSEYS (CONTINUED)

Brad Daugherty (No. 43)
Height: 7-0 Weight: 263
Position: Center
Jersey Retired on 3/1/97

10,389 points scored, 5,227 rebounds grabbed, 2,741 free throws made, 3,670 free throws attempted. Five all-star appearances made.

Those numbers represent the various statistics that Brad Daugherty led the Cavaliers franchise in at the time of his retirement and why he is one of the greatest players in franchise history.

The number one overall draft pick of the 1986 NBA Draft, the 7-foot center was pivotal along with then-fellow rookies Ron Harper, John Williams and Mark Price in re-energizing and improving the franchise. The multi-skilled Daugherty was named to the All-Rookie Team and quickly joined elite status as an NBA center.

Daugherty played in the first of five All-Star games in 1988 and then led the Cavaliers to the playoffs for the first time in three seasons that April. The following season Daugherty and the Cavaliers won a then franchise-record 57 games, including going 37-4 at home.

After an injury-plagued 1989-90 season in which Daugherty missed the first 41 games, he returned to All-Star status. He became the first and remains the only player in franchise history to average 20 or more points and 10 or more rebounds in the same season. He reached that feat in three consecutive seasons (1990-93), being named an All-Star in the process each of those years.

In the 1992 NBA Playoffs, Daugherty cemented his place as one of the best in the league by leading the Cavaliers to the Eastern Conference Finals. He averaged 21.5 points on .528 field goal shooting, 10.2 rebounds, 3.4 assists and 1.0 block in 40.4 minutes per game during the 17-game run. In the first round against New Jersey, he scored a then Cavalier playoff-record 40 points on April 23.

Cleveland made the playoffs in all but two of the seasons Daugherty played and he led the Cavaliers in scoring in all but three of his seasons.

Just entering the prime of his career at 28, Daugherty suffered an ill-fated career-ending herniated lumbar disc in mid-February of the 1993-94 season.

Despite having his outstanding career cut short, the North Carolina native had already broken the afore-mentioned Cavalier records. He remains in the top 10 all-time in points (3rd), field goal percentage (2nd), minutes played (4th), field goals made (5th) and field goals attempted (5th), scoring average (7th), assists (7th) and blocked shots (9th).

As part of the Cavaliers 30th Anniversary in 1999-2000, Daugherty was unanimously named by 32 members of the Northeast Ohio media to the Cavaliers' All-Time Starting Five. He was the only player to garner all 32 votes.

The Cavaliers retired his jersey on March 1, 1997.

Mark Price (No. 25)
Height: 6-0 Weight: 180
Position: Point Guard
Jersey Retired 11/13/99

They say lightning doesn't strike twice in the same place, but for the Cavaliers on draft day in 1986, it did.

Prior to the draft on June 17, Cleveland acquired the top overall pick from Philadelphia in exchange for Roy Hinson and considerations.

With the first pick in the 1986 NBA Draft, Cleveland selected center Brad Daugherty.

At the top of the second round, the Dallas Mavericks selected Mark Price with the 25th overall pick. Quickly, the Cavaliers traded their second-round draft pick in 1989 and other considerations with Dallas in exchange for the rights to the 6-foot All-American from Georgia Tech.

Unknowingly then, the Cavaliers acquired two of the greatest players in franchise history that day. Price and Daugherty helped the team turn the corner and join the NBA's elite while becoming the cornerstones of the Cavaliers' franchise.

While Daugherty started as a rookie, Price learned on the bench for a year before unseating John Bagley. Once a starter, Price never looked back.

Widely regarded as one of the best shooters in NBA history, Price and his picture-perfect release guided the Cavaliers to one of their most successful runs in franchise history. With the exception of the 1990-91 season in which he tore his ACL and played only 16 games, the Cavaliers made the playoffs and won at least 42 games every year Price was a starter.

The sweet-shooting point guard was named an All-Star four times (1989, 1992-94) and at the time of his retirement was the only Cavalier to be named to an All-NBA Team more than once (1988-89, 1991-94), including All-NBA First Team in 1992-93.

Price led the NBA in free throw percentage twice (1991-92, '92-93) and won the NBA's Long Distance Shootout in back-to-back years (1993-94).

Not just a shooter, Price ranked in the top 10 in the league in assists in five of his nine seasons as a Cavalier.

For his career, Price ranks first among all Cavaliers in free throw percentage, second in assists and third in three-point field goals made. He also ranks among the top 10 all-time in franchise history in steals (2nd), three-point field goal percentage (4th), points scored (5th), free throws made (5th), field goals made (6th), field goals attempted (6th), games played (9th), minutes played (7th) and free throws attempted (7th).

Price was named to the Cavaliers' All-Time Starting Five by 32 members of the Northeast Ohio media during the Cavaliers 30th Anniversary season. He was also the leading vote-getter on the Cavs All-Time Team, as voted on by the Cleveland fans.

The Cavaliers retired his jersey on November 13, 1999.

CAVALIERS ALL-TIME RETIRED JERSEYS (CONTINUED)

Zydrunas Ilgauskas (No. 11)
Height: 7-3 Weight: 260
Position: Center
Jersey Retired: 3/8/14

Aside from his stellar statistics and All-Star appearances, the reason Clevelanders love Zydrunas Ilgauskas is because he shares the same qualities as the city he represented: toughness, endurance, resiliency.

When he was tabbed with the 20th overall pick in the 1996 NBA Draft, Cavalier fans had barely heard of Ilgauskas, who hailed from Kaunas, Lithuania – the birthplace of his idol, Blazers center Arvydas Sabonis.

After missing his first season, undergoing right foot surgery just a few months after being drafted, Big Z played in all 82 games during his “rookie” campaign – one in which he won MVP of the Schick Rookie Challenge at All-Star Weekend and gave Rik Smits and the heavily-favored Pacers all they could handle in the postseason.

But between that season (1997-98) and the 2001-02 campaign, Ilgauskas was limited to just 29 total games, with another pair of foot surgeries in between.

Those injuries and the ensuing rehab might’ve induced a lesser man to call it a career. But for Ilgauskas, this merely served as a rebirth.

Big Z bounced back to play 62 games in 2001-02 and, the following season, returned to his rookie form – averaging 17.2 points and 7.6 rebounds per game. He notched double-figures in every game but five and was named to his first All-Star Game, joining the East squad in Atlanta.

Over the next seven years with the Cavaliers, Ilgauskas never played less than 64 games in a season – starting 81 games in back-to-back campaigns and, as the team began its ascent in the standings, Z continued to climb through the franchise’s all-time record books.

In 2004-05, Big Z had his best season as a pro and, along with his teammate, LeBron James, returned to the All-Star Game. The 7-3 Ilgauskas saw more action than in his first appearance, going 5-for-8 from the floor and 2-of-2 from the stripe for 12 points to go with seven boards and a pair of blocked shots for the East squad.

In his six playoff appearances with the Wine and Gold, Z is tied for second in games played (71), tops the list in offensive rebounds (180) and sits in second place in minutes (2,017), defensive rebounds (343) and total boards (523).

Before wrapping up his career in Cleveland following the 2009-10 season, Ilgauskas (10,616) would go on to become one of just four Cavaliers to have topped the 10,000-point mark, joining Austin Carr (10,265), Daugherty (10,389) and LeBron James (23,119).

One day after breaking the 10,000-point plateau, Big Z swatted four shots against the New Jersey Nets to become the franchise’s all-time leader in blocked shots, finishing with 1,269.

Overall, Z – who ranks in the team’s top 10 in 12 major categories – is the Cavaliers’ all-time leader in offensive rebounds (2,336) and ranks second in total rebounds (5,904). But the all-time mark that best exemplifies Ilgauskas might be the one he set on December 2, 2009, when he passed his friend (and then-general manager) Danny Ferry – playing in his 724th game as a Cavalier.

When his career in Cleveland came to an end, Ilgauskas had suited up for 771 games as a Cavalier, more than any player in franchise history.

Not bad for a player whose career almost ended after two seasons. The Cavaliers retired his jersey on March 8, 2014.

Austin Carr, Bobby ‘Bingo’ Smith and Nate Thurmond, three members of The Cleveland Cavaliers’ 1975-76 “Miracle of Richfield” team.

Cavaliers Wall of Honor

The Wall of Honor program, which debuted during the Cavaliers' 50th season in 2019-20, was created to recognize deserving former members of the franchise and serve as a special, permanent way to honor those who have played such a distinguished, pivotal role in Cavs history.

The Wall of Honor resides prominently in the North Atrium area of the FieldHouse. The large 12'x44' wall features a mosaic of custom designed tiles that represent each honoree. Each new inductee will have two SILVER tiles: one engraved with their name, photo, years with the organization, and their jersey number or role with the team; the other with their name, list of major accomplishments and jersey number/role. Five individuals who played core roles in the early years of the Cleveland Cavaliers comprised the inaugural class of the Wall of Honor: Wayne Embry, Bill Fitch, the late John Johnson, Nick Mileti and the late John "Hot Rod" Williams.

The Wall also include GOLD tiles for the eight legends who have previously had their jerseys retired by the Cavs: Austin Carr, Brad Daugherty, Zydrunas Ilgauskas, Larry Nance Sr., Mark Price, Bobby "Bingo" Smith, Nate Thurmond and Joe Tait (Cavaliers Hall of Fame radio broadcaster for 39 seasons).

The following are the guidelines for eligibility to be considered for the Cavaliers Wall of Honor:

- Must have been a part of the Cavaliers organization for at least two seasons.
- Must be retired from playing or working for the Cavaliers organization for at least five seasons.

They must also exhibit two or more of the following traits as hallmarks of their tenure with the organization:

- Strong personal character that elevated the organization and inspired those around them.
- Significant community commitment focused on improving the quality of life in and around the City of Cleveland.
- Standout individual game performance and a competitive impact that improved both the team and their teammates.
- Be reflective of the "All For One. One For All." commitment throughout the organization.

BEHIND THE UNIFORM AND LOGO

Heading into the fourth season donning their now-familiar threads, the Wine and Gold are now completely cozy in the most recent iteration of the of the Cavaliers' colors. And once again this year – as Cleveland celebrates NBA's 75th Anniversary, hosting the 2022 All-Star Game – there's also a stellar tribute to the past.

On 12 occasions during the 2021-22 season, the Cavaliers will be part of a leaguwide initiative to celebrate its 75th season, replacing the City Edition for a "Mixtape" uniform – a bold compilation of some of the franchise's most memorable moments and greatest hits.

The five moments that'll be woven throughout the wine-colored uniform are the 1976 Miracle of Richfield – celebrated by the swashbuckling Cavalier centered on the chest – along with multiple features honoring Cleveland's 1992 Playoff defeat of the Celtics the team's 1994 move to Downtown Cleveland, the Wine and Gold's 2007 run to the NBA Finals and, of course, the 2016 NBA Championship.

Fittingly, the Cavaliers will unveil the Mixtape uniform in person on November 12th against the Boston Celtics.

This year, the right chest of the standard uniform will feature a metallic silver Nike swoosh. And once again the left chest will be adorned by an equally-iconic logo – the Goodyear Wingfoot, part of the Cavs ongoing partnership with Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co.

The home and road workmarks across the chest are sharply detailed and the font is angular with aggressive angles.

On the White Association Edition Uniform, CAVS is written across the chest in wine with a gold outline, with "CLE" front and center on the waistband. With the Wine Icon Edition, CLEVELAND is emblazoned across the chest with a navy outline and the waistband of the shorts reads "CAVS."

The squad will also don black uniforms once again this season – an ever-present nod to their Championship past.

The "Statement" alternate uniform is different than the previous incarnations of the Cavs' black uniforms – with various versions donned during the 1994-97, 1997-99 and 1999-2003 eras as well as the iconic sleeved uni's that Cleveland donned during their 2016 Finals run.

The Statement uniform has the Cavs "C" set in the middle of the player's chest with their number beneath. And one of the outfit's more unique features is the "tire tread" look that gives a textured look consistent with the Goodyear partnership.

One of the franchise's mantras is to "Defend The Land" – and this philosophy extends right to the squad's regalia, as the uniform actually forms a shield, beginning with the gold outline at the "V" of the collar, running down along the side and back shoulders of the jersey and onto the front of the of the shorts.

Of course, the franchise's DNA statement – "All for One. One for All." – has its place on the uniform. Actually, it has two places: under the flap on the bottom of the shorts and just above the Nike jock tag so a player can see it every time he tucks in his jersey before battle.

And once again, the league will also allow teams to choose which color they'll wear at home. In the past, aside from unique occasions, the Cavaliers donned their white threads at home.

The Cavaliers have undergone plenty of uniform transformations over the years – from subtle renovations to complete reincarnations.

Over the years, the club's colors – "wine and gold" – have become almost analogous to the team's actual name. The Cavaliers are the "Wine and Gold" in the same way that Ohio

State is the "Scarlet and Grey," the University of Michigan is the "Maize and Blue" or the Oakland Raiders are the "Silver and Black."

But in the 50 years of Cavaliers history, the franchise has experimented with burnt orange, royal blue, bright orange, black, purple and pastel blue. And throughout the club's history, there have been three notable uniform changes – not all good.

The first uniforms featured the feathered underscore of "Cavaliers" on both home and road jerseys. Those years also featured the birth of the Cavs iconic logo – a silhouetted figure of a jousting Cavalier, encircled by the words "Cleveland Cavaliers."

Cleveland's second uniform style – made famous by the "Miracle of Richfield" team – featured gold home duds and "Marquette"-style horizontal white, wine and gold stacked piping along the sides. Those uniforms – and that era – were celebrated again by both the 2004-05 and 2015-16 teams.

In 1981, as the final remnants of the Miracle squad faded into the sunset, the Mike Mitchell-era team went with a metallic gold with a pair of horizontal stripes with the word "Cleveland" written above it in block letters.

But in 1983 – with the purchase of the team by Gordon Gund and the organization on the verge of big changes – the Cavaliers made a radical departure from its original colors and identity. This came in the form of the burnt orange and royal blue uni's with the word "CAVS" written across the chest. The "V" was designed like a hoop with a ball entering it, which also served as Cleveland's new logo.

The Cavaliers retained the colors – and slight variations on the look – throughout their final, and highly successful, years at the Richfield Coliseum. The burnt orange as the primary road color was replaced by the royal blue road uniforms in 1987 and the "CAVS" logo was replaced with the block "Cleveland" before the 1989 season.

This attire will forever be linked to the Lenny Wilkens era of excellence that featured the likes of Mark Price, Brad Daugherty, Larry Nance and Hot Rod Williams.

When the Cavaliers began play at Quicken Loans Arena in the 1994-95 season, there was once again a sea change from the previous look.

From the wine and gold of the 70s to the burnt orange and royal blue of the 80s, the Cavaliers went with pastel blue and black. Home uniforms were white, road black, with a jagged blue splash across the torso and double-lined lettering that said "CAVS" at home and "Cleveland" on the road, both outlined in orange.

The Cavaliers modified this look in 1997, sticking with the color scheme, but losing the incongruous torso splash. Instead, the uniforms featured a more streamlined blue and orange piping along the right side of the shirts and shorts. The futuristic lined letters remained.

But in October of 2002, Gund decided to bring Cavaliers fans back to the future. The new colors were announced on October 9, 2003 – the "new expression of wine and gold" – a crimson-hued wine color and a metallic, almost copper, gold. Dark blue, the secondary color, was a tribute to the Cavalier teams of the 1990s.

Since then, the Cavaliers have returned to the Wine and Gold – with navy blue and black as their secondary colors.

This year, the city of Cleveland will welcome some of the NBA's greatest legends to town and celebrate the Association's 75th season in style. And all season long – with a young team looking to the to the future – they'll continue to celebrate the franchise's decorated past.

NAMING THE CAVALIERS

Can you imagine Jarrett Allen throwing down a dunk for the “Cleveland Towers”? How about watching Collin Sexton driving through the lane for the “Cleveland Jays” or listening to the sage advice of longtime play-by-play man, Austin Carr – better known as “Mr. Forester”?

Doesn't quite work, does it?

One-half century ago, as part of a contest sponsored by the Plain Dealer, these were three of the five finalists in the search for Cleveland's first professional basketball team's new name.

But none of those three nicknames, nor the fourth – (“Presidents”) – had the combination of class and courage of the handle that eventually became the name of Nick Mileti's new basketball franchise – the Cleveland Cavaliers.

Back in May of 1970, that masculine moniker was provided by a then-29-year-old district manager named Jerry Tomko, who wrote an essay which, in part, read: “The name Cleveland Cavaliers represents a group of daring fearless men, whose life's pact was never surrender, no matter what the odds.”

(Little did he know that his words would also soon be lyrics in the Wine and Gold's now-iconic fight song from the same era – “Come On, Cavs.” The tune, penned by local radio personality Larry Morrow famously exclaims: “We'll never surrender/No matter what the odds.”)

After his retirement and relocation to San Diego, Tomko – the father of former major league pitcher, Brett Tomko – kept the winning essay from the PD in a safe box at his home.

“Actually I wrote it in about 20 minutes,” laughed Tomko. “I went to pick my wife (Donna) up and I heard about the contest on the radio. There was a napkin and a pen sitting in the car and I wrote it. Then, when I picked my wife up, I asked her to proofread it.”

Tomko said he felt like “Cavaliers” had a chance when he heard the other four finalists.

“They picked five names and they had a vote on it. When the five names appeared – the other four didn't sound that good. The odds seemed to be getting better, but it wasn't a sure thing.”

Nearly 6,000 fans voted on the team's new name, and over a third preferred the alliterative “Cleveland Cavaliers” – who would soon be tipping off their inaugural campaign at the Cleveland Arena.

After being selected as the winner, Tomko received a pair of season tickets for the Cavs maiden voyage in 1970, but not the autographed basketball he was promised by Mileti at the time.

But the current Cavaliers kept the organization's original word – sending Tomko an autographed basketball in 2010, along with a commemorative plaque.

Now, five decades later, the Cleveland Cavaliers are one of the most respected and recognized franchises in sports.

Over those years, they've represented the gallant, swashbuckling image envisioned by Tomko quite well. And although the Eastlake native moved to a place 2,400 miles and two time zones away – (not to mention living in Laker Country) – he remained a fan of the club whose name he coined.

“I'm not one of those jump-off-the-bandwagon, who's-in-first-place type of guys,” said Tomko.

The Wine and Gold have gone on to great things – including taking the 2016 NBA title in epic fashion.

And now, after 50 years of existence, the franchise has changed uniforms, buildings, owners, players and coaches, two things haven't changed from the day Jerry Tomko wrote an essay on a napkin: They're still the Cleveland Cavaliers and they still don't surrender, no matter what the odds.
